ARSON BY ANARCHISTS.

House-Burning Systematically Pursued in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—In November, 1885, a fire broke out at 404 East 64th street, and Maria Fialka and her two children were burned to death. The fire was of incendiary origin. The crime was traced at the time as supposed to Edward and Henry Kohout, and they were arrested with Henry Kohout's wife, and put on trial. Edward and Henry Kohout were convicted and sentenced to State prison for life. The evidence against Edward Kohout was very peculiar, it being shown that while Henry left the house fully dresed Edward had very little clothes on, and it did not appear very probable that there had been any conspiracy between them. All the defendents were ignorant Bohemians, and the fact was brought out in the trial that they belonged to an Anarchist group and were followers of Johann Most. Inspector Byrns, however, made it his object to brobe the mystery, and has finally succeeded in proving the innocence of one of the prisoners. The another Anarchist named John Kylian, stands accused. The fact that all the men concerned in the affair were Anarchists threw some light on it, and brought the fire marshal into the case, when during a fight in the Anarchist camp some who were opposed to Johann Most charged his faction with burning tenements in New York for the insurance. The charge was made in the Boston Liberty, an Anarchist paper, and instances were specified, among them the Kohouts case. The fact that both brothers were followers of Most, and corroborative evidence accumulating just then, caused the fire marshal to make an attempt to extort a confession from Edward Kohout. He went to Sing Sing and held out a promise of pardon to him if he would tell all he knew. Edward had nothing to tell, except that he was innocent and wrongly convicted, and the fire marshal went back no wiser than he came.

ANOTHER MYSTERIOUS FIRE OCCURRED

in Sixteenth street, by which a Mrs. Beck and an unknown man lost their lives. The stranger was afterwards identified. Both he and Mr. Beck were Socialists of the extreme stripe. Much excitement prevailed on the east side at the time, and detectives made persistent but vain attempts to work up the case. While at work evidence was obtained against a small clique of Anarchists, but not enough to warrant arrests. A cigar-maker named Johann Kylian was suspected. He lived in East 16th street, near the Becks, who formerly lived at No. 408 East 64th street. He obtained the insurance on the property by the late fire. He relied on the smallness of the amount to escape investigation. Inspector Byrnes determined to sift the matter out, and learning that Kylian lived in the same house with Kohout he in his mind

CONNECTED KYLIAN WITH THE CRIME.

Through his detectives he learned that some men had been seen carrying bundles of clothing out of the rooms of the Kohouts the night before the fire broke out. One of them resembled Kylian, and he learned that Kylian had kept away from the Kohont family since the conviction of the Kohout brothers. Inspector Byrnes went up to Sing Sing and bluntly told Henry Kohout that Kylian was his accomplice. He appealed to the convicts sympathy for his wife and the child born since the trial. The convict broke down finally, and cursing his tempter Kylian, told how the latter had made a compact with him to care for his wife if he was convicted. Kylian having broken his agreement he was ready to talk. He told how Kylian had tempted him by telling him how easy the insurance money could be gained by firing the house, and bragged about the fire in East 64th street. Kohout objected at first, on the ground that in a crowded tenement many lives would be lost, but finally, on being appealed to as an Anarchist, he gave way. The prisoner then of the way in which the fire was started and the events that occurred. Kylian brought in whiskey and it nerved him up to the deed. Kylian also furnished him with a half gallon demijohn of kerosene or benzine. The prisoner then tied all his clothes and his brother's together. His wife and brother were asleep and knew nothing of it. Kylian went away with the clothes and the prisoner went to bed. About an hour later Kylian came back and took away some fancy articles in a pillow case. Kylian then prepared the fuse which was to set fire to the oil in the demijohn and went away, after telling the prisoner to wake up his wife and brother when he heard the explosion. The demijohn was placed in a room upstairs. Kohout said he was scared and did not run up to put any oil on the fire as directed by Kylian. he woke his wife and brother and they all escaped. Afterwards Kohout and his wife slept at Kylian's house, and both agreed to care for each other's families in case of arrest. Inspector Byrnes then saw Edward Kohout and was convinced that he was innocent. Returning to the city, he called on Mrs. Kohout and questioned her closely. She told him she had missed money and many articles after the fire, and had been puzzled to account for it. The inspector consulted Recorder Smyth, as to the law for the unsupported testimony of a convicted felon and how it would go against Kylian. The Recorder told him if Kohout's story was true, and some of the latter's belongings were found in his possession, the case against him would be clear. The inspector procured a warrant for Kylian's arrest. Detectives searched his rooms and found Kohout's property, which Mrs. Kohout identified.

WHEN THE EXPLOSION CAME

KYLIAN WAS ARRESTED

at work in a tin cornice shop. He was wearing a coat belonging to Henry Kohout. The arrest was made on Thursday. On Friday the Kohout brothers were brought down from Sing Sing on a writ issued by Judge Churchill. To-day they were confronted with Kylian at police headquarters, and the two brothers repeated their story. Kylian who is an ill-looking fellow, sniffed contemptuously at it, but admitted that some of it was true, but more untrue. When asked to point out the parts that were true he flew into a rage and was taken back to his cell. The police hope to convict him on four or five other arson cases in which he is said to have figured with other Anarchist individuals engaged in swindling insurance companies.

ARSENIC IN TEA.

Another Mysterious Case of Wholesale Poisoning,

MALDEN, Mass., Aug. 28.—Another case of wholesale poisoning has just come to light. Mrs. Elizabeth Blanchard lives on a small farm at Wilmington, Mass., and takes a number of summer boarders. She has to assist her in her housework a 13 year-old colored girl named Mary Davis, who belongs in Chelsea. On Thursday evening at supper five of the boarders partook of tea and were all made violently ill. Physicians were immediately called and by prompt action saved their lives. The doctor states that the cause of the sickness was arsenic, which fortunately had been administered in a large quantity and caused copious vomiting. Those affected by the poison were Judge Emmons and wife, of East Boston, Mrs. Elizabeth Blanchard, Samuel Blanchard and C. A. Littlefield, of Boston. Last night Mary Davis was ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.

She was arraigned this morning and held in $5,000 for trial. She state that on Thursday Mrs. Blanchard bought some tea which she placed in the tea canister. Mrs. Blanchard remarked that it tasted like tobacco and she then scooped the new tea out of the canister until she thought she had got it all out. She told the servant to make the tea for supper out of the old tea remaining in the canister, which she did, with the above result. She denies ever having any arsenic. She says she dosen't know what it is and didn't put anything in the tea. Her character has been good. At a late hour last night all the poisoned people were comfortable. Those who did not partake of the tea were not made ill.

CANADIAN FISHERIES.

Views of Hon J. A, Chapleau, the Dominion Secretary of State,

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Hon. J. A. Chapleau, the Canadian Secretary of State, who is in New York, stopping at the Gilsey House, said this morning: "I have been much astonished on seeing in some of your eastern newspapers expressions which would indicate feelings of anger toward Canada, and intimations that we entertained such feelings toward the United States. This is absolutely groundless so far as we are concerned, and we have in all and especially official circles the kindest feelings toward our nearest neighbors. In regard to the recent seizures, the circumstantial evidence was entirely against your fishermen. We were simply trying to enforce our laws, what we believe to be the true interpretation of the treaty of 1818. All communications between the two governments have been of the most amicable nature. I see nothing in the controversy that could not be readily settled by a joint commission appointed for that purpose. In fact, there is no question except the meaning of the three-mile limit. I hold that your Secretary of State's views as to that are all wrong. The rumor that our Governor-General went to England for instructions in regard to this fishery dispute are untrue. The journey was contemplated long before this question came up, and was delayed not hastened by it. We have no need of instructions from the Imperial Government upon this matter. Our own power with regards to our fisheries is very wide. We are in a position, aiming within them, to arrange this matter ourselves.

We are very anxious for a more stringent extradition treaty and have made strong representations to the Imperial Government in reference to it.

In regard to the scheme for an imperial federation, which, though as yet barely outlined, seems to occupy much of the attention of some English statesmen, it meets with favor in Canada, but good loyal Canadians need nothing of this sort to strenghten the ties which bind them to the old country."

A CAMPAIGN CRY.

An Investigation into a Serious Charge.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—A telegram from Montreal says: A secret inquiry is making into the truth of A. M. Chagnon's allegations that cabinet ministers have maintained certain relations with women clerks in the Government department at Ottawa. It is stated that at the instance of Hon. Mr. Bowell, Minister of Customs, detectives have been employed to ascertain the facts in the matter. Mr. Bowell resents the imputation of wrong conduct on his part, and is determined that the guilt, if any exists, shall be placed where it belongs. It has been stated that women have sacrificed themselves to obtain places or promotions for their husbands, and that many women are retained on the pay rolls solely because of their personal charms. Some of the ministers are accused of taking these clerks with them on official and private tours through the country, and the names of both the men and the women are alleged to have appeared on the hotel registers. This is indignantly denied, and the general impression is that it is merely a campaign cry of the Opposition.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP," and take no other kind. ap9-eod-dw

SHUSHAP AND OKANAGAN RAILWAY.

A scheme is being matured for the construction of a line of railway from a point on the Canadian Pacific railway at Sikamoose Narrows (near Shuswap lake) to Priest's Valley, at the arm of Okanagan lake. This would cover a distance of fifty miles, and a further stretch of seventy-five miles would be secured by establishment of steamboat traffic upon Okanagan lake. It is calculated that the running of such a line as this would yield a fair return upon the investment by the carrying trade it would secure from the establishment of direct communication between the Okanagan and Spallumcheen valleys and the outer world. There would be opened up a large wheat-growing area, including the valley of the Coldstream. The lands already under cultivation that would be brought within reach of the line are, approximately, 136,000 acres in extent; and there are in addition, irrespective of grazing lands, over 70,000 acres capable of producing wheat. Extensive ranges, offering generous pasturage, lie contiguous to the proposed line of railway, and upon these lands could be fattened large herds of stock, for which the increasing population of the province would furnish a ready demand. Then, again, there are the important timber interests of the country to which the development of this district would form no inconsiderable contribution. All these resources, apart from the conditionally valuable one of the minerals, offer a fair and sufficient guarantee of the building of such a line as proposed becoming a profitable investment. Mr. G. A. Keefer, C. E., who has examined the proposed line, speaks of the country as being exceptionally favorable for the purposes of railway construction, the cost of which he places at $750,000, with a further cost of $40,000 annually for the running expenses of a daily service one way. The cost of constructing a canal through the district was devised by the Dominion government when in 1882 they caused a survey to be made by Mr L. B. Hamlin, C. E., who reported that such a canal would establish an unbroken navigable water stretch of over 240 miles opening upon a rich agricultural country unsurpassed in the whole province for its fertility. The cost of said canal he placed at its lowest as $27,000 per mile. This proposed railway is one of a few branch lines of the Canadian Pacific that would be of the utmost importance to British Columbia, for it would open up a country capable of stopping the vast commercial leak from which we suffer, viz: the large sum of money that annually leaves this country in payment of imported flour. In this regard the total value of breadstuffs, provisions and animals imported into British Columbia during 1885 was $755,799—a sum that most certainly should have been returned in the province, which possesses all the facilities for supplying these sorts of produce, excepting that most important one—inter-communication. This one requirement could be remedied by such a line as proposed, which would form in conjunction with the C. P. R. direct connection between the seaboard and east of the Cascade mountains.

Australian Civil Procedure.

[LETTER 2]

TO THE EDITOR:—In continuing my observations upon the above subject, with the view of our taking a few leaves out of the Australian book and benefiting thereby, before entering upon further suggestions for our guidance, I would again revert to the urgent necessity stated in my last letter of our causing our county court to assimilate with that in Australia, on account of its present unsuitability to meet requirements, the plain facts being that in present form it approaches too much to being a branch of the supreme court. Now, in all well ordered county courts on the day of trial, there is posted up a list of the cases and the order in which they will be heard, so that the matter assumes a business form. No such arrangement prevails here, and favored lawyers get the preference. It is a matter of surprise that it has been tolerated so long, but as the late Sir James Douglas used to say "our citizens seem very inert."

But passing the matter by, I now come to more important matter for consideration suggested by Australian experience, viz, the importance to the commercial community of there being a bankruptcy law, and also one of deed of assignment—a very useful lesson may be learnt by notice of their laws in operation upon these subjects in Australia—more especially the bankruptcy law of which Sir W. Barton, a former judge of Sydney was the author. Continuing my observations I have to observe they have long since, at least in that part of Australia of which Melbourne is the capital dispensed with grand juries, the attorney-general acting as grand juror, and although Englishmen from time-honored custom would be loath to part with an institution so flattering to their vanity as being a grand juror, and addressed by a learned judge as if they were the most important people in the world, Australian experience has shewn that it can be very well dispensed with, and the advantages of its abolition are shown by its securing more intelligent jurors and good decisions instead of as with us in this city, the most intelligent of our citizens being wanted as grand jurors, leaving only very inadequate material for other jurors, calling forth as it has done so often in the past severe comments from the bench upon the character of the verdicts rendered. More anon. In my next letter I have some other matters of Australian doings to bring under notice.

"Rattle Her Bones," &c.

TO THE EDITOR: Will you allow me to call your attention to the indecent manner in which paupers are disposed of? I was working at the cemetery to-day when my attention was directed to an express wagon, driven by a boy, entering. The wagon contained a coffin partly covered with a dirty cloth. The boy saw the caretaker and found out where he had to go, which was in the Chinese portion. Thinking it was a Chinaman, my feelings were quieted somewhat. The boy stopped at the grave. The caretaker helped the boy, and together they dropped the coffin into the ground, and it was soon covered up. On the return of the caretaker I asked him if that was a Chinaman he had buried and he replied, "No; Chinamen always had some one to come out with them. This is only a poor devil from the hospital. He had no money, and consequently no soul, I suppose. At least, he was treated as such." The deceased was a Mr. Thos. McMann, well known in the city—a Scotchman, I was told, by birth—and I feel sure had his death been known to his friends his remains would have been interred with more respect than if he were a dog. By calling your attention to this, Mr. Editor, I hope you will see with me the necessity of a change.

OBSERVER.

Northern R. R. & China.

VICTORIA, 7th September.

TO THE EDITOR:—Time! Time!! To the merchant and traveller a lessening of time is of paramount importance, and it will be found that his preference will go to that line or route which shortens his pilgrimage of transit. One of your correspondents, in last Friday's issue, writing under the initials of J. S. H., very strongly drew the attention of capitalists to the vital importance of extending our local line to the extreme north of the island. His arguments in support of this are those which all well wishers of Vancouver Island most cordially endorse. I would wish to strengthen this most laudable conception by directing attention to one point which appears to have been inadvertently omitted, viz, the effect it would have in lessening time of voyage at least two or even three days. Assuming the idea as worked out, our swift steamers on leaving Shanghai and Yokohama would take advantage of the Ku Ro Scivo or Black Stream current, probably steaming as far north as 52° or even 54° north latitude, so enabling their running off longitude quickly. By this means it will not be all improbable that a saving in time of two or even three days would be effected. This advantage would absorb all trade in itself.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—A statement of the affairs of Dupuis, Brien, Coutlee & Co. show their liabilities here to be $117,500; assets, $117,000. The firm make an offer to the creditors.

Private Ed. Mossey, of the 83rd battalion, was to-day found guilty of stealing a watch from Private Langlois, of the 65th battalion. The members of the 83rd feel much disgraced.

F. X. Langlois, who was injured at Sorel on Tuesday, died to-day.

At a meeting of the citizens' health committee to-day the members declared themselves in opposition to Robertson, the labor candidate for Montreal West, on account of his anti-vaccination principles.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Bonus bylaws to the Canadian Pacific for $40,000 to purchase right of way through the city, and for $25,000 to secure divisional workshops at London, were carried yesterday by immense majorities.

CAYUGA, Sept. 2.—Messrs. W. H. Merritt and Colter were nominated yesterday as conservative and reform candidates respectively to represent Haldimand in the house of commons. Although in years past this has been a grit stronghold, there is every prospect of its being carried by the conservatives.

HALIFAX, Sept. 2.—Sir Charles Tupper has arrived in the city, and will remain two or three days before proceeding to Ottawa.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 2.—Havelock Smith was placed on trial at the opening of the Elgin assize court this morning for the murder of Marshall Piggotte.

MONTREAL, Sept. 3.—Dr. Sauriol, mayor of St. Bruno, Chambly county, has abandoned the legal profession at fifty years of age and entered the college to study for the priesthood.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—Mr. J. W. Beall, local manager for Messrs. Stone & Wellington, nurserymen of Toronto, returned here yesterday from Kentville, N. S., where he had John Savage, the local agent for that section of the country, committed by Police Magistrate Denison after six days' preliminary investigation on two charges of forgery and four charges of embezzlement on the complaint of the firm.

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—Sir Alexander Campbell returned to the city yesterday much improved in health.

Archibald S. Carling, son of the postmaster-general, was found dead in his room in his father's house this afternoon, shot through the temple. It is supposed that the deceased was examining a revolver which exploded accidentally.

A fire early this morning destroyed the Dominion carriage works. A fireman named Latimer was severely injured by a falling roof. The loss is about $1,200.

MONTREAL, Sept. 3.—Fire in Perrault's grocery store caused a loss of $2,000. Covered by insurance.

Jas. Williamson, a contractor of this city, was found guilty of forging a promissory note for $125.

Maurice Rich, a jeweler, was attacked with heart disease to day and expired before medical aid arrived.

The arrivals of sugar at this port for this season are between three and four million pounds more than last year.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 3.—There was a slight frost in this district on Wednesday night, but only slight damage done.

ORILLIA, Sept. 3.—McKay's woollen mill was burned to the ground yesterday. Loss, $7,000; insurance, $3,000.

ST GEORGE, Sept. 3.—The liberals of North Brant have nominated the present member, Mr. Somerville, as their candidate at the next Dominion election.

DESERONTO, Sept. 3.—The annual gathering of the Mohawk Indians was held yesterday, on their reserve here, and was a grand success. Hon. Messrs. Carling and White were present and addressed the gathering, their speeches being received with great applause.

PORT COCKBURN, Sept. 3.—The steamer Nipissing, of the Muskoka & Nipissing Navigation Company's line, was burned to the water's edge at Fraser's wharf here. The crew were saved with some difficulty, but lost all their clothing.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—A special cable says the Grand Trunk directors report that the half year, ending June 30th, shows a credit balance of £80,000 sterling, but in accordance with the statement of Sir Henry Tyler at the last meeting the board will defer till the next meeting in August any recommendations as to the mode of dealing with the deficiency carried forward from the previous half year.

Envious France.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—The Republique Francaise, commenting on the published correspondence between the Czar and Prince Alexander, says: "After the czar's reply the house of Battenberg may be considered to have ceased to reign in Bulgaria. That reply also humiliates England, whose lamentations nobody regards. Events in Egypt proved England's incurable egotism. France must arrive at an entente cordiale with Russia, both on the Mediterranean and in the east against the British invasion.

BULGARIA.

SOFIA, Sept. 7.—Prince Alexander twice met officers of his army who called to persuade him to remain on the Bulgarian throne. On each occasion he besought them to refrain from opposing his departure. The officers expressed their deep sorrow, but promised to follow his wishes. Prince Alexander will leave Sofia Sept. 13th.

MM. Stambouloff, Karaveloff and Mukteroff constitute a regency. The Stambouloff cabinet has resigned and a new ministry has been formed as follows: Premier and minister of the interior, M. Radoslavoff; minister of foreign affairs, M. Nacevies; minister of finance, M. Gueshoff; minister of justice, M. Stoiloff; minister of education, M. Ivanchoff; minister of war, M. Nicolaieff.

Prince Alexander has started for the frontier. Russia agrees to all the principal points of the demands of notables, and further declares her intention of notifying the great powers of these engagements. The Bulgarian government has addressed an agreement to the powers signatory to the Berlin treaty to guarantee Russia's promise.

Another meeting of army officers was held here to-night when they again favored the retention of Prince Alexander. The commandant of the Widdin garrison telegraphs that he is ready to march on Sofia to suppress any cabinet that acquiesces is the prince's abdication. Russia's reply was received with great distrust.

FRANCE.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—Five men were killed and seven injured to-day at Luleville by the bursting of a steam boiler.

A hailstorm, accompanied by a high wind, recently prevailed in Paris and its environs. It was most severe in the suburbs where it destroyed trees, fruit and vegetables. Large trees were torn to shreds by the hail. The loss to glass and gardens is estimated at one million dollars. The Bois de Vincennes has the appearance of a forest riddled by cannon shot.

RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 7.—The czar, czarina, czarovitch and grand dukes, accompanied by an imposing military suite, started to-day for Wetna and Warsaw to witness the forthcoming army manœuvres.

Horrible Crime of a Negro.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Vice-President James W. Alexander, of the Equitable life assurance society, has issued a circular instructing the agents of the association in all parts of the world to solicit subscriptions for the benefit of the Charleston sufferers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 7.—Early this morning, as the transfer steamer Solano was about to enter her slip at Benicia, engine 89 and a car attached to it ran off the boat and plunged into the bay. As the car ran off into the water it settled back with a crash against the cudder of the double-ended steamer and broke it. The conductor, engineer and brakeman saved their lives by jumping from the rear platform of the car as it was in the air on to the boat. Henry Garvey, the fireman, was drowned. Damage done to the Solano will necessitate her being laid up for repairs. Engine was valued at about $8,000. An effort will be made to raise her as soon at possible.

The Pacific coast freight agents of the transcontinental lines have announced a reduction of fifty per cent. for eastbound freight, with a minimum rate of fifty cents per 100 pounds to Chicago and St. Louis. This action was taken owing to the fierce opposition being waged by the Pacific Mail Steamship Co. and Canadian Pacific railway. The reduced rates have been guaranteed up to next Saturday.

To-day was one of the hottest days this year; the thermometer reached 85 degrees.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 7.—A special from Gadsden, Ala., gives an account of a horrible crime by a negro parent Gabe Watts. He lived ten miles in the country in a cabin with his three children, the eldest ten years of age. Recently he expressed a wish to get rid of them, and a few nights since, just before day, he knocked all of them on the head with a stick, piled up the bedding on the floor, set fire to the house, fastened it, and left. The fire was discovered, but when taken out one child was dead and the other two barely alive—the skulls of both being fractured. Gabe, when arrested, confessed the crime and said that he did it because he did not want his children to fall into the hands of white folks.

GOLDWIN SMITH

Vigorously Replies to Gladstone

Gladstone's pamphlet has scarcely been mentioned by the London press since Saturday, but to-day there appears in the Times a counterblast from Goldwin Smith. His letter is, perhaps, the most brilliant and bitter of many he has written. His accusations against Gladstone are not less sweeping, though veiled in more decorous phrases, than Lord Randolph Churchill's. Among the many counts of this indictment is one based on the supposition that Gladstone really means to split up the existing kingdom into separate nationalities. "The embers of hatred," says Goldwin Smith, "which have been cold for centuries, have been rekindled by this holy statesman for that holy purpose." Goldwin Smith thinks it necessary to add that the suggestion that England has tyrannized over the members of the union is simply venomous fiction.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—The Journal des Debats published to-day a sensational report about an alleged uprising of the people of northeastern India against British rule and in favor of Russian invasion. The report says that a number of Indian princes have followed Dhulep Singh's example in joining Russia and exhorting the people to throw off the hated English yoke. The Journal des Debats says great events are now imminent in Central Asia.

BULGARIA.

RUSTCHUK, Sept. 7.—The czar's reply to Alexander's letter of August 20th was not made public here until yesterday. It raised a storm of popular consternation and indignation. Many officers of the army advocate resistance if Russia forcibly deposes Alexander against the will of the people.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 7.—A very light earthquake shock, lasting five seconds, was felt here at 11:42 this morning.

DELAYED DISPATCHES.

BULGARIA.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—A London cablegram says: Prince Alexander's letter to the czar has considerably chilled English sympathies with him, or at least English admiration of his character. Tory journals denounce his servility and cringing words. Liberals describe the letter as an ingenious surrender of his rights and dignity as a sovereign, "submission almost to the verge of humiliation," as the Times declares. They make little allowance for the differences in manners between Western Europe and the semi-Oriental audience whom the prince had in mind, his own people. Prince Alexander, himself a German, approached the czar as a Bulgarian and as a Russian would have approached him. It was plain, moreover, before he wrote such an appeal that Prince Alexander had discovered that he could count on no outside support. Austria will not stir in opposition to Germany. Prince Bismarck will not risk fresh Russian alliances for a half dozen Bulgarias. England, which directly encouraged the prince's return, has nothing but moral support to offer. His last chance was to conciliate the czar, who proves irreconcilable. Whatever may be thought of the prince's letter, the czar's answer is a piece of bitter brutality which amazes Europe.

SOFIA, Sept. 5.—Thousands of copies of the czar's reply to Prince Alexander have been printed by order of the Russian consul and distributed among the people. It is believed that Russia will give the throne to the Duke of Oldenburg, who is commander of a cavalry division at St. Petersburg and a favorite of the czar's.

DESTITUTE FISHERMEN.

Great Misery Prevailing in the Northern Newfoundland Districts.

HALIFAX, Aug. 31.—Reliable reports from Newfoundland are to the effect that there are no fish north of St. John's worth speaking of, and that fishing generally in the northern districts of the island is next to a total failure. The people are consequently in a state of destitution unheard of before at this early season of the year, large numbers of them having abandoned the fishing as a hopeless failure. In White Bay, especially, and in certain parts of Green Bay, the fishing population are already seeking relief. The situation is an exceedingly gloomy one. Fishing on the French shore from Griquet is pretty good, but poor along the east coast, averaging from ten to fifteen quintals per man for hook and line, and twenty for trap. Much destitution exists on the French shore.

Killed for Stealing a Kiss.

WATERLOO, Iowa, Sept. 3.—On Thursday afternoon Simon Clacy, of Washburne, ten miles from this city, took his family to the house of a neighbor, Tom Toxey, to spend the afternoon. As he entered the house he attempted to steal a kiss from Miss Alice Edwards, a granddaughter of Mr. Doxey, whereupon the young woman caught up an old pistol lying in a cupboard near by, and, aiming it at him, pulled the trigger. Clacy fell to the floor shot through the liver, and still lingers in great distress without hope of recovery. It was first reported that the shooting was done by his own little daughter, but the facts are as above stated. Both families are wealthy farming people, standing high in this community. Miss Edwards is twenty-six years of age.

Sale of City Lots.

(Special to the Colonist.)

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 7.—At the sale of Merchant square lots to-night one lot on Columbia near Douglas sold for over $7,000; and another in the same locality for $5,000. The lots in this square lie opposite the railway station and yard, and are considered to be the most valuable of any of the city property offered for sale thus far. The track within the city limits is fast approaching completion. Some 200 Chinese are at work ballasting the road. It is expected that freight trains will be running by the last of the week.

Personal.

Mr. J. McB. Smith returned last evening from a trip to the interior.

Messrs. G. G. Gwynn, of Clifton, Eng., and A. N. Farwell, of Bath, Eng., are in the city.

At the Driard: F. E. McKeone, Tacoma; E. B. Beck, San Francisco; Ira S. Milliken, Hamilton, O.

Among the passengers from New Westminster yesterday were Mrs. N. Shakespeare, and Mr. M. Lenz.

Lieut. W. B. Reynolds and wife, U.S.A., of Vancouver, W. T., were passengers by the steamer North Pacific yesterday to this city.

Dr. Chisholm and Captain Tatlow came down on the steamer Yosemite last night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Innes returned yesterday from their trip to the mainland.

Capt. C. Greville Harston, superintendent of the British Empire Mutual Life Assurance company of London, England, arrived in town last evening, and will, in conjunction with Mr. A. B. Gray, the general agent, and Mr. Wm. Whyte, the local agent, canvass the district in the interests of the company. The captain was the first man to enter Batoche, during the northwest rebellion, for which action he was promoted to the rank of brigade major. Old time residents will doubtless remember the captain's brothers, the Lieutenants Harston, who held commissions on the Alert when here.

At the Clarence: G. A. Shaw, M. H. Cowan, A. McSwain, J. K. Worsfold, W.T. Woodman, W. C. Woodman, Wichita, Kas.; J. E. Macdonald, Chemainus; David Doig; J. C. Haynes and Mrs. Haynes, Osoyoos; J. H. Reiffenstein; J. N. Sinclair, R. B. Thompson; L. Van Doren, Seattle, W. T.

Colonel Black, adjutant general of the imperial forces stationed at Halifax, Lieut.-Col. Lane (of the Rifle Brigade) military secretary to Lord Russell, arrived from the east yesterday. Their visit is purely unofficial.

Capt. Harston, of the Canadian Grenadiers, arrived from the northwest yesterday.

Sir R. Musgrave was a passenger from Nanaimo yesterday.

A Rival to the Banff Sulphur Springs.

A gentleman of Montreal who has returned from a trip over the Canadian Pacific railway to British Columbia, states that the newly discovered sulphur springs at Harrison Lake, some distance from Port Moody eclipse the already famous spring at Banff. A party has taken hold of the place and has erected a commodious sanitarium for the accomodation of invalids. The spring comes out of a pool about ten feet square, and the water is so hot as to boil an egg hard in a very few minutes. A road is now being built from the Canadian Pacific main line to the spring, and about $60,000 is being expended on the hotel. The water after it has been bottled a few days loses its sulphurous flavor, becomes effervescent, and is very similar to Apollinaris water. Forty-two visitors were at the springs, and a number of cures were effected upon those suffering from rheumatism and skin diseases.

Local Enterprise.

Our energetic townsman, Mr. A. B. Gray, has succeeded in unearthing some very valuable information relative to the respective merits of the leading life assurance companies, and he publishes in his advertisement to-day what he holds to be conclusive evidence that the old reliable British Empire company, which he represents, takes risks at the lowest rate of premiums, and being purely "Mutual," pays the largest bonuses of any of the leading companies.

ENGLISH DAMSONS at Beauchamp's, Yates street. *

THE "KING OF ENGLAND."

Vancouver the Regal Seat.

Harry Evans, an Englishman, about twenty-five years of age, who has been lately in the employ of Contractor Patterson, went into Dr. McGuigan's office yesterday afternoon and requested the doctor to examine him with regard to his sanity. The man seemed perfectly sane on many subjects, but, on being asked his position in the world, he answered that he was the King of England, and that he was anxious to take command of the troops in British India, and oppose the further advance of the Russians into Afghanistan. He admitted, however, that he had no knowledge of military tactics.

Mr. Reesor, jeweler, was honored by a visit yesterday afternoon from Evans, who again represented himself as the King of England. He demanded the best watch and chain in the establishment, value $250. Mr. Reesor, seeing none of the "needful" in sight, requested that his vision might be gratified in viewing that article, but Evans, not deigning to carry the dross about his person, referred Mr. Reesor to the mayor as his cashier. Not succeeding in getting the watch and chain, "the king" left in high dudgeon.—Vancouver News

Precious Ores from the Selkirks

Mr. J. McB. Smith who returned yesterday from a trip over the B. C. portion of the Canadian Pacific railway, brings down with him a number of valuable specimens for the geological collection now being formed by the government. Amongst other samples is one thirty pounds in weight taken from the Kerr, Corbin and Kennedy claim near the summit of the Selkirks, about 30 miles east of Farwell. An assay made of this ore went as high as $700 to the ton. The owners refuse to sell, having means enough of their own to work the lead effectively, and have sent forward a carload of the ore to be smelted at Chicago. Mr. McB. Smith also brings with him samples of goldbearing free milling ore from the Bonanza King or Bright & Taylor lead in the Big Bend district; and in addition, a specimen of silver ore from a mine at Spellmcheen, about 30 miles from Farwell, which assays $116 to the ton.

Chinese Paupers.

A meeting will take place to day between his worship the mayor and the police committee on the one hand and the Chinese merchants on the other, with the view of arranging for the proper disposal by the latter of their indigent and sick countrymen. Such action on the part of the authorities has became necessary in view of the fact that there is now in the provincial gaol a Chinaman who is in a leprous condition, existing on the bounty of the province. An effort will be made to compel the Chinese to remove and care for him. It is a notorious fact that many of the poor and sick Chinamen wilfully thieve in order that they may be sent to gaol where they get plenty to eat and have little to do. It would seem to be about time that this kind of thing was stopped, and in the interests of a patient public it is hoped that the interview to take place to-day will be productive of some decisive action which will put an end to this condition of things.

Deep Sea Fisheries.

Mr. F. Mowatt, inspector of fisheries, arrived down from New Westminster yesterday, and will proceed north in the schooner Pathfinder in the course of a few days to make investigations as to the existence of cod banks in the northern waters. The party will first go to the head of Queen Charlotte Island, so as to avoid the autumn fogs, and will make soundings all along the coast on the return journey. All the necessary apparatus for testing the temperature of the water has been furnished, and the intention is to make the trip a successful one if success is possible. Hon. Mr. Foster when here expressed his great desire that his anticipations of extensive fish banks should be realized, and Mr. Mowatt will leave no stone unturned to secure that result. The Pathfinder will be absent some months.

Methodist General Conference.

This body met at Toronto on the 2nd inst. Amongst notices of motion was one by Rev. D. Graham, of Montreal, that the name of the general superintendent be changed to bishop. Rev. Dr Withrow moved that the nominating committee be requested to strike a committee to prepare an appropriate address to Her Majesty the Queen on the completion of the jubilee year of her reign. The resolution was unanimously adopted by a standing vote, the entire conference singing "God Save the Queen."

Appointed Guardian.

In the supreme court yesterday upon the application of Mr. Thornton Fell, Mr. James Daley was appointed by Chief Justice Sir M. B. Begbie, guardian of the little girl who was so brutally ill-used by Tai Ho, the Chinawoman who has been committed for trial at the next assizes in consequence of her villainy.

THE MINNIE HAUK CONCERT AND OPERA CO. will give two performances only in this city Sept. 27 and 28 Change of programme each evening. Reserved seats now on sale at Waitt's Book store at $1.50 each. No money taken at the door. *

OPERATIC.—A dispatch received from Winnipeg last night states that Minnie Hauk who had appeared there two nights had met with a most enthusiastic reception, the houses being completely sold out to most fashionable audiences.

What Some People Say.

That Heathorn & Co. are nearly ready for business.

That "garments without buttons" are advertised. We've got 'em, and so has every other bachelor.

That a petrified ham has been found in a gravel pit near Peoria, Ill. We understand it will be returned to the railway eating house that lost it, and no questions asked.

That a ticket to Europe was recently purchased in New York for $7.50. This is said to be the lowest rate ever offered—$1 a day for food, lodging and travel at the rate of 375 miles a day.

That "the women appear to do all the work here," writes Colonel Waterson of the Swiss. "It is not uncommon to see a girl and a dog hitched to a cart and trotting along together like a pair of ponies."

That T. J. Jones, L. D. S., has removed his dental rooms over the new Bank of British Columbia, corner of Fort and Government streets. Telephone call 507. 1m

That humor mingles with pathos and tragedy (says the Christian Leader) even in the story of that appalling volcanic eruption in New Zealand. Mr. Morgan, a surveyor, relates that when the shower of ashes came on at Galatea, one native fell upon his knees and exclaimed, "O, Lord, if you will only let us get out of this, I will give you a pound and Morgan shall keep it."

That a great sensation has been caused at Dunquerque by the announcement of the return from Greenland of three married fishermen, after an absence of seventeen years, during which time they were, it is asserted, held in captivity by the natives. Their wives meantime had taken other husbands.

That the proprietor of a restaurant in this city blew out the gas on Monday night. He shortly afterwards lit a match to find the tap and immediately an explosion took place, during which the better half of a small black moustache and part of an eyebrow disappeared.

That Mr. Justice Brett delivered himself of an obiter dictum of much importance and interest in refusing "Miss Violet Cameron's" application to restrain her husband "molesting" her pending the hearing of her petition for a judicial separation. The learned judge made, he said, no assumptions, but what he laid down was this—that "it is not molestation if a husband go to his wife and try to induce her to give upan adulterous intercourse with another."

That it is now stated that the general superintendency of the Canadian Pacific railway vacated by Mr. Egan will be filled by Mr. William Whyte, superintendent of the eastern division.

That the czar has presented the sultan with two blue fox furs, made up of the finest skins, and measuring more than three yards square. Their value is reckoned $115,500.

That the Rev. W. J. E. Bennett, vicar of Frome, a prominent member of the Tractarian party, and the defendant in a well-known prosecution before the privy council died recently aged 84 years.

That fresh journalistic enterprizes are said to be afoot in London. One of them is the launching early in the year of a daily illustrated paper, and the other an evening edition of the Daily Telegraph.

That a feeling is growing in Chicago among the socialistic Knights of Labor against Grand Master Powderly. They denounce him for giving away the secrets of the order, for writing for magazines and papers as the head of the Knights of Labor and denouncing socialism and anarchy, which they claim do not disqualify for membership in the knights.

That in Kensington, one of the wealthy suburbs of London, 6445 summonses were issued last year against inhabitants for nonpayment of rates, 1476 distress warrants were issued, and 203 were returned "no effects" and 150 defaulters were imprisoned.

That in a recent week 2655 births and 1505 deaths were registered in London, Eng., for that week. The registrar-general's report for that week states that the death rate of London further declined to 18.9 per thousand annually, and is much below the average of the past ten years.

That the Congregational, Baptist and Evangelical union association gave a breakfast to-day to Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. Dr. Fergus Ferguson presided. Mr. Beecher narrated his early religious struggles, and dwelt upon the difficulty he experienced in breaking loose from the old Calvinistic theology.

Marine.

American bark Ferris Thompson arrived at San Francisco from Nanaimo on the 4th.

Bark Alden Besse, now lying at Tacoma, has completed her cargo and will arrive at Esquimalt on Saturday to take on board some 250 Chinese bound for Hongkong. Captain O'Brien thinks it probable that his vessel will get a return charter to Victoria, instead of to Portland.

Some Indians who arrived from the west coast yesterday report that they left the schooner Active in Clayoquot sound. The natives, who experienced a head wind which finally fell to a calm, were eight days in coming from there. The schooner may be looked to arrive to-day. The number of skins taken is 1400, and Capt. Lennan sent word that the first favorable breeze will bring in pretty nearly a dozen sealers which, like his own craft, are becalmed.

The sailing of the bark Archer for Portland was postponed. She will probably leave to-day.

ANDREW'S CHURCH.—At the twentieth annual meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian congregation, held last Monday evening, the chair was taken by Mr. Keith Wilson, with Mr. Hutcheson secretary pro. tem. The regular report was adopted, though there was submitted in addition a minority report: The following gentlemen were elected a board of management: Messrs. R. Dunsmuir, H. F. Heisterman, A. B. Gray, R. B. McMicking, J. Hutcheson, J. N. Muir, W. Whyte, T. Russell, G. Robertson, C. Spring, J. F. Smith, W. Dorman senr., and A. Carmichael (secretary).

LECTURE.—Mrs. Youmans will deliver an address under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. on "Temperance," this Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, in the Methodist church, Pandora street. To illustrate her lecture she will use charts and diagrams, specially prepared for the subject. As Mrs. Youmans bears the reputation of being one of Canada's most distinguished temperance advocates, being a fluent speaker and an astute reasoner, a large attendance is anticipated.

POLICE COURT.—August Kiffer was fined $16 and costs, or one month's imprisonment, for assaulting Mary Ann Dobbs by throwing a tub at her head. He paid the money.

THE H. B. ROUTE.

Paper Read Before the British Association.

By Hugh Sutherland, M. P.—"The New Trade Route Between England and America."

LONDON, Sept. 2.—At the annual meeting of the British Association, held at Birmingham, yesterday, Hugh Sutherland read a paper, by request, upon "The New Trade Route between America and Europe," of which the following is an epitome:—

The rapid settlement and cultivation of the Canadian Northwest have directed public attention in that country to the necessity of a new trade route to Europe. It has been found that a railway carriage of 1,800 miles before reaching a seaport is a serious drawback to the prosperity of that region, and places the settler at a great disadvantage in competing with the other wheat producing countries of the world. With the object, therefore, of getting on, at least, terms of equality with those rival countries, an agitation was begun a few years ago to open up an outlet through Hudson Bay, and a railway has been projected from Winnipeg and Regina to Port Nelson, at the mouth of the Nelson river, which, when completed, will bring the Northwest upwards of 1,000 miles nearer the seaboard than it is at present. The Canadian government, anxious to encourage the enterprise, fitted out an expedition to explore the strait and bay with a view of determining the practicability of the route. The first expedition was sent out in 1884 and observing stations were established along the strait. These were relieved the following year, and the information thus obtained, together with the evidence of experienced navigators which was collected by a special committee of the Canadian parliament have satisfied the people of that country that the route is entirely feasible.

It is confidently expected that this new trade route, already in process of development, will create a revolution in the commercial traffic of the vast interior of that continent, on both sides of the international boundary. Minnesota, Dakota, Montana and Wyoming are naturally tributary to that route, as well as the whole Canadian possessions west of Ontario.

A reference to the map will show how far down into the heart of the continent Hudson Bay extends and how favorably it is situated to command the entire trade of that vast territory. It would seem as if nature intended that it should be the outlet, offering as it does a seaboard within convenient reach of the districts named and virtually placing them as near to European markets as Ontario, Western New York and Ohio now are.

The attention which has been given to the bay in consequence of this new project has resulted in increased knowledge of the resources of that great inland sea. Its waters abound with salmon, seal, whale and walrus, all of great commercial value, while the coast regions of the bay and strait are rich in timber and minerals. Besides offering a new and advantageous trade route between Europe and America, it is not improbable that the ultilization of those waters will be followed by the development of timber, fish, and mining industries of great value.

A Remedy for Rheumatism.

A Russian medical journal makes public a system of treatment for acute articular rheumatism, which is represented as having been employed with the greatest success for twenty years past by Dr. L. Grinevitski, of Rostoff-on-the-Don. He administers two drachms daily of nitrate of potash in raspberry syrup, distributed in doses given every two hours. At the same time, for external use morning and evening, he prescribes an ointment composed of oleï hyosc., 1 oz.; ung-hydrarg. cinerei, 2 dr.; ext aconi, 1 dr. This treatment is said to cure, in almost all cases, in from one to two weeks, and is generally successful in the most severe cases, where salicylates are ineffective. Rheumatic persons should be glad of this information, if only as direction for a new line of personal experiment.

The Weather.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 7.—Indications for the succeeding 32 hours for Washington Territory are: Continued warm and fair weather with variable winds.

B'NAI B'RITH.—Dr. Blanc, of San Francisco, organized a lodge consisting of twenty members, of the I. O. B. B., at the Jewish synagogue last night. The following officers were installed: M. Moss, president; B. Aaronson, vice president; H. Salmon, secretary; A. Lewis, treasurer; G. Cohen, assistant monitor; J. B. Mendes, warden; J. Guttman, guardian; Jack Levy, Jos. Davies and Sol. Oppenheimer, trustees. After the installation and attendant ceremonies had been concluded the party adjourned to the Queen chop house where a good time was had, lasting into the early hours of the morning.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

New Mail Route to India via the Canadian Pacific.

The Address Agreed to Without Division.

Sexton's Amendment Defeated.

An Animated Debate—Renewing the Home Rule Struggle.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The postmaster-general stated in answer to inquiries in the house of commons this afternoon that the government had considered the scheme of having the mails between Great Britain and America sent by way of Galway instead of by way of Queenstown, but he doubted whether the Galway route would be quicker. The government were prepared, however, to consider tenders for mail service across the Atlantic by way of Galway, and had under consideration the establishment of a mail route from Ireland by way of British North America to India and the Far East.

J. Jordan, Parnellite, asked the government why the county of Clare had been placed in the sphere of General Buller's mission to Ireland.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach replied that although there did not exist in Clare that state of lawless intimidation which prevailed in Kerry, still there was much intimidation in Clare, and much activity among secret societies.

Lord Randolph Churchill will to-morrow ask precedence for the supply bill. Mr. Parnell has given notice that he will move the following amendment to Lord Randolph Churchill's motion: "The necessity for measures to ameliorate the condition of the people of Ireland is so far urgent that the house declines to surrender to the government the usual facilities enjoyed by members of the house."

Mr. McDonald resumed the debate on Mr. Sexton's amendment to the address. He attributed the troubles in Belfast to the incitement of certain reverend fire brands and the speeches of Lord Randolph Churchill and Mr. Chamberlain. He said that the magistracy was neglectful while blood was being shed, and that if the police had been allowed to defend themselves at the outset the rioting would quickly have been subdued.

Major Sanderson, conservative, deprecated the "useless prolonging" of the debate. He said it was impossible to treat Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt as a serious politician, because the latter attached more importance to measures than men. Major Sanderson denied that the house was justified in prejudging a question which was about to form the subject of a searching inquiry by the commission. He denied absolutely that the Orangemen originated the riots, which, he said, were the legacy of Gladstone's blood-stained policy, which extended from Khartoum to Belfast. He denied Mr. Sexton's assertion that Orangemen had taken an oath to exterminate Catholics. Orange lodges, he said, were always opened with prayer, and one of the petitions was that Irish Catholics might be rescued from the error of their ways. If parliament handed them over to the Parnellites, Orangemen would be justified in resorting to force.

The debate on the address and the amendments continued at great length and was at times animated. John Morley late chief secretary for Ireland, said he thought Major Sanderson's language was that of a rebel. He would not say that Sanderson nursed rebellious thoughts, but if he acted in accordance with his words he would stand a good chance of being a "jail-bird."

Mr. Pinkerton, an Irish Protestant, was proceeding to defend the Catholics when Mr. Macartney stigmatized Pinkerton as a "renegade." The speaker called upon Macartney to withdraw the expression. Macartney obeyed.

Mr. Redmond, Nationalist, said he would be sorry to "descend to the depths of Macartney's scurrilous language." Here the speaker called upon Redmond to withdraw the expression and warned him not to repeat such language. Redmond withdrew the expression. He continued, however, to comment upon Macartney's words, whereupon the speaker called upon him to apologize to the House. Redmond willingly obeyed, saying he intended no offence.

Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt declared that the Orange party had long been the curse of Ireland. It had kept alive race and religious hatreds, and was more harmful than all the other societies together. As he was continuing in a similar strain the speaker called upon him to keep to the subject of amendment.

After loud calls for Churchill, to which he made no reply, the Speaker put the question and Mr. Sexton's amendment was rejected by a vote of 225 to 127. The announcement of the result was received with loud cheers.

Immediately before the division a loud altercation arose between Colcomb and Tanner, and the Speaker ordered both to appear before the bar of the House after the division. After the result of the division had been announced it was decided that it was needless for the House to interfere any further with the address. The address was then agreed to without a division.

Mr. Parnell moved to take up the report stage to-morrow.

Lord Randolph Churchill desired that it be taken up directly.

Mr. Labouchere said that as Lord Randolph Churchill had failed to answer Sir William Vernon Harcourt he (Labouchere) would give notice that at the report stage he would introduce an amendment to the effect that Churchill's Belfast speech was calculated to provoke breaches of the law and ought to be withdrawn.

Parnell's motion was rejected 223 to 121.

Mr. Stuart moved to adjourn the house. Churchill opposed the motion.

Parnell said it did not lie in the mouth of Churchill with his past history in the memory of the house to complain of the course now being taken. This was the last chance the house would have of raising the question of Churchill's conduct. In view of the state of Belfast, Mr. Parnell thought it reasonable that an adjournment be granted.

Stuart's motion was rejected.

Churchill reluctantly consented to adjourn rather than prolong the sitting by resisting so large a minority determined on obstructing.

Of the House on the division on Sexton's amendment, Childers, Lefevre and Herbert Gladstone voted with the minority. Harcourt did not vote.

Mr. Tanner explaining the altercation between himself and Mr. Colcomb, said that the latter stated that he (Tanner) had been paid to obstruct the debate, and he retorted by calling Colcomb a liar.

RENEWING THE FIGHT.

A number of prominent Radical members of the house of commons, with the assistance of the Parnellites, have matured a scheme for a vigorous home rule campaign during the parliamentary recess, by means of pamphlets and lectures, in which the grand results of self-government in the colonies will be referred to as increasing their loyalty; the history of Ireland reviewed, special stress being laid upon the iniquitous manner in which the reunion was effected, and the land question; eviction horrors; Gladstone's home rule policy discussed, etc. Arrangements are also being made for popular meetings.

DUBLIN, Sept. 2.—United Ireland says: "The work of extermination of landlords has commenced in Ireland. We don't owe them anything, and we don't feel any pity for them. The Irish landlord is the impenitent thief. The Irish tenants are fighting liberally for dear life. Final victory is assured them."

IRELAND.

A Troublesome Time at an Eviction.

Lord Clanricarde's Haughty Tenants.

LONDON, Aug 28.—The struggle between the constabulary and the tenants on the Marquis of Clanricarde's estate, which has been going on for the past few days, has just terminated in the success of the police. The estate of Woodford is in the southeast corner of Galway, near the lovely and picturesque Lough Derg. A tenant of the name of Sanderson was ordered to be evicted for non-payment of rent; but, encouraged by the warm sympathy of the whole of his fellow-villagers, he determined to resist and placed his house in a state of siege. Not content with plowing up the roads in order to prevent the approach of the constabulary, trees were felled for the purpose of making barricades, and bridges were destroyed. The amount of unpaid rent for which Sanderson has just been evicted at such a large cost to the State does not amount to $80. The parish priest expresses the warmest sympathy with the tenants.

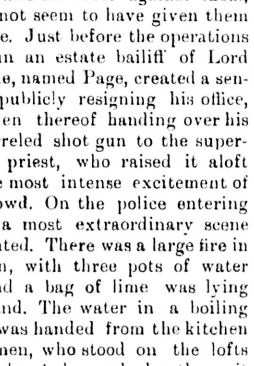

The scenes at Woodford yesterday were of the most remarkable nature. A force of 550 police were engaged, besides a small army of bailiffs and emergency men. The house was occupied by a number of countrymen, armed to resist the eviction. The roof was loopholed and the storming of the place was a most exciting affair. Scaling ladders and a shed like those which the old Roman soldiers used in approaching the walls of a besieged town to protect them against the defenders were used. After a desperate struggle the house was carried by storm, and the police, jumping in through the roof, made prisoners of twenty of the men inside. A number of the bailiffs, emergency men and members of the police force were injured by scalding water poured upon them. A swarm of bees were also let loose against them, but it did not seem to have given them any trouble. Just before the operations were begun an estate bailiff of Lord Clanricarde, named Page, created a sensation by publicly resigning his office, and in token thereof handing over his double-barreled shot gun to the superintending priest, who raised it aloft amidst the most intense excitement of a great crowd. On the police entering the house a most extraordinary scene was presented. There was a large fire in the kitchen, with three pots of water over it, and a bag of lime was lying close at hand. The water in a boiling condition was handed from the kitchen up to the men, who stood on the lofts behind the loopholes and who threw it out on the bailiffs.

AN OUTRAGE.

But He Didn't Get an Introduction

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A lady member of the Dixey company a few nights ago was visited by a handsomely attired and distinguished looking woman, who claimed to have had a letter of introduction to the actress from her friends in New York. She invited the American to call at her house in a fashionable part of the town. The next day the lady mentioned the matter to a friend and was advised not to go. She then received letters from the woman chiding her for breaking her engagement, and promising to call again. A detective was present when she called, and recognized her as a well-known procuress for certain persons in high life. Pressure was brought to bear upon the woman, and she confessed that the Duke of Portland had offered her $500 for an introduction to the young American. The police wish to prosecute, but the young lady, unlike most professionals, does not wish the notoriety which such cases would bring.

Cut Rates—A Threat from the Other Route

ST. PAUL, Aug. 31.—Reports are constantly reaching the Northern Pacific that the Canadian Pacific is cutting through rates, both east and west bound, between eastern points and Victoria, B. C. These cuts are promptly met by the Northern Pacific, and the Canadian Pacific will find its match. When the snow begins to fly the Northern Pacific will have a far better advantage.

According to the annual report of the insurance commissioner of Maryland, live stock insurance is a failure in that State, and in some of its phases is not successful in Pennsylvania.

A PICKPOCKET'S HEROISM.

As Recounted by a Benevolent Old Gentleman who Knew Him from a Boy.

The subject was pickpockets, and a detective had given a number of interesting incidents of the skill and dexterity of his class of criminals, as well as striking instances of their complete reformation

"I met a reformed pickpocket once, said a benevolent-looking old gentleman "and the means he took to reform himself were probably such as no other member of his fraternity ever took. I say I met this party once, but the fact is I knew him from a boy. His family was one of the best that lived in Philadelphia, and the young man received a good education and had every thing that heart could desire to make him a good and useful citizen. He seemed to have no faults. He never drank or gambled, and it was not until he was past his majority that the crushing fact was brought home to his father that his son was a professional pickpocket and an associate with criminals of his class. The father for years paid large sums to keep his unfortunate son out of prison, but finally gave him up as totally lost, and cast him off. I used to meet the young man frequently, his family being intimates of mine—in fact, I have trotted the boy on my knee many and many a time—and always pleaded with him to change his course. He felt his degradation keenly, to all appearances, but declared that he could not control his inclination for pocketpicking. I finally lost sight of him, and did not meet him again until about a year ago. Then I came face to face with him on Broadway. He looked like a well-to-do young business man, and when he recognized me he greeted me cordially. He noticed my embarrassment in speaking with him, and said:

"Oh, I've turned my hand from the old business long ago. The fingers that made me an outcast and a thief make me one no longer. And how do you think I overcame their irresistible inclination to enter every pocket they encountered?"

"I replied that I could not tell him how, but assured him of my undoubted pleasure to hear that he had overcome them.

"I'll tell you," said he. "One day I had been plying my detestable vocation, and on reading the paper next morning I found that I had pilfered from a poor woman money that she had in her pocket to pay for a coffin for her dead child, and that it was the last cent she had in the world. I was stricken with remorse. I walked about the streets haunted by the wrongs of this poor woman. I thought of ending my miserable existence by suicide, and actually rushed in a frantic sort of way toward the river. As I hurried along, a prey to the most terrible thoughts, I came to a shop where they were hammering bars of iron with ponderous trip hammers. The doors of the shop were open on the street. I stopped in a listless way and looked in at the honest workers. As I watched the heavy hammers drop with their powerful blows, and saw how they flattened the tough metal beneath them, a strange thought came suddenly to me. It was a fearful thought, and I tried to put it away, but something kept saying: "Be brave! Do it! Save yourself!" Led by an irresistible power, I entered the shop. I walked up to one of the great hammers. I watched it as it was lifted up and came rushing down again on the iron below with the velocity of the wind. I tried one more great effort to resist the power that urged me on, but failed. I stepped close to the hammer. It was lifted high in the air. Before it fell again, and before any of the workmen divined my intention, I placed my hand on the iron beneath it. The hammer fell. Every one of the fingers on my pilfering right hand were severed. "They'll never lead me wrong again!" I cried, and fainted. When I came to I was in a drug store, and the bleeding stumps of my severed fingers were being bandaged by skillful hand. In time they were healed and now—see!"

"He pulled his glove from his right hand and showed me the stumps of his fingers, still red from the cruel hammer's blow. I could not find words to tell this brave youth how noble his act was—crippling his good right arm to save himself from a life of crime. After a few minutes' talk we parted. I was filled with admiration of this exhibition of nervy manhood. I would be filled with it yet, I suppose, if I never had had occasion to consult my $200 gold watch again. But I did have occasion soon after leaving my brave young friend, and the watch was gone. So was $150 in bills that were in my vest pocket when I met him. I learned afterward that in trying to escape from a policeman, three or four years before, he had tripped, and, falling, his hand was crushed between the wheels of a truck. In my admiration of the noble motive which he told me had bereft him of the fingers of his right hand I had failed to notice that those on his left hand were as long as ever."

In the Supreme Court of British Columbia.

WHEREAS, PURSUANT TO A DECREE OF the Supreme Court of British Columbia, made in the matter of the estate of William Turgoose, in a cause, Sadler and Turgoose against Sandover, the creditors of the said William Turgoose were required to send in their claims to the Registrar of this Honorable Court on or before the 15th day of June last past: And whereas, in the opinion of this Court, it is desirable that further time should be given for a final adjudication upon claims against the said estate, therefore, pursuant to a further order in the matter of the said estate and in the said action, the creditors (who have not already filed their claims) of William Turgoose, late of South Saanich, who died on the 22nd day of January, 1886, are, on or before the 20th day of September, 1886, to send by post, prepaid, to Charles Wilson, the Solicitor for the Plaintiffs, their Christian and surnames, addresses and descriptions, the full particulars of their claim, a statement of their accounts and the nature of the securities (if any) held by them, or in default thereof they will be peremptorily excluded from the benefit of the said decree. Every creditor holding any security is to produce the same before the Registrar of this Honorable Court, at his office, James Bay, Victoria, on Monday, the 27th day of September, 1886, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, being the time appointed for adjudicating on the claims.

Dated the 20th day of August, 1886.
